Hi Casey –

So long as we have an agreement between my office, Jon Friedman's office and you, that you will appear for your deposition when we can schedule it, I will consider the matter to just be on hold. The parties are going to go to mediation in late December. If the case resolves, then we will not need to bother you. If it does not resolve, then we will need to schedule your deposition on a date when you can be available.

Agreed? Jon?

More importantly, I wish you the best with your mom.

Howard

Hello Howard,

Just an FYI, my mother is undergoing lung cancer surgery on Dec. 1 at the Brigham. I am her primary caregiver and thus I will not be available that week.

I also have Jury Duty on Dec. 14th. Please note these dates for your scheduling purposes.

Regards,

Casey

Hi Howard,

I appreciate the concern regarding the care of my mother. Right now, I have open dates Nov. 14, 15 & 16.

Do these dates work for you?

Best,

Casey

Hi Casey-

We need to take your deposition. The parties will of course accommodate your schedule so your mother's care is not interrupted. What number can I call you at to coordinate? For now, let's put aside the issue of service which we can fight about if we can't reach agreement.

Best,

Howard

Good morning Tara,

I just found your email in the spam folder of my production company via my business partner. I apologize for the delay, but I'm a bit confused as to why you did not email me at Regan Communications Group, as this is a Regan matter. Reading your email, I also want to clarify to you that I was not lawfully served with a subpoena. Someone delivered a pile of loose leaf documents to my ex-wife's house, an address where I haven't resided in 4 years.

My ex-wife told your server that she would not accept these documents on my behalf, yet your server just left them there.

I have yet to review the documents. I did contact Howard Cooper via email last week after he had spoken with George Regan (see the email below).

I will reiterate that message here.

I've been made aware that you are attempting to contact me to discuss Regan Communications' work on behalf of Rudolph Friedmann, LLP with regard to Allan Chiocca in 2018.

I have not been properly served by Todd & Weld to testify on this matter. I have been splitting my time between Cape Cod & Boston, caring for my mother, who is receiving cancer treatment.

I am more than happy to coordinate a day & time to meet with your team to discuss Regan Communications' public relations work that was authorized and directed by attorneys Adam Shafran & John Friedmann.

Given the schedule of my mother's cancer treatments, I would be available any time beginning the week of November 29, 2021. Please advise.

Casey Sherman

Dear Mr. Sherman –

As you are aware, our process server has lawfully served you with a subpoena for both documents and testimony for this Friday, November 5, 2021. Your failure to appear at your deposition will force us to seek judicial relief to enforce the subpoena. We remain willing to extend you every courtesy and cooperate with respect to scheduling if this Friday does not work for you. Otherwise, we will insist that you appear as required, with documents, as scheduled.

Casey Sherman <csherman@regancomm.com>

to Howard, Ken, George

Good morning Howard,

I've been made aware that you are attempting to contact me to discuss our work on behalf of Rudolph Friedmann, LLP with regard to Allan Chiocca in 2018.

I have not been properly served by Todd & Weld to testify on this matter. Someone named Tara Dunn dropped off a stack of loose leaf documents at my ex-wife's home.

I live and receive mail at a different address. I have been splitting my time between Cape Cod & Boston, caring for my mother, who is receiving cancer treatment.

I am more than happy to coordinate a day & time to meet with your team to discuss Regan Communications' public relations work that was authorized and directed by attorneys Adam Shafran & John Friedmann.

Given the schedule of my mother's cancer treatments, I would be available any time beginning the week of November 29, 2021. Please advise.

Warm Regards,

Casey Sherman
